Diary of a poet and don't know it. My feet show it. They're long fellows.

With a bit of inspiration from Joyce Kilmer, I try my hand at poetry...dedicated to those outfits (I do not name them lest with their signs.

I think that I shall never see An ad as lovely as a tree.

With请歌 and nails and staples, These hucksters cover oaks and maples.

And if they do not stop this gait, I may not see a tree at all.

R.F.B.

POETIC LICENSE

Dear Bob— June 4 '95

I can remember if I wrote you that Bob Bookbhee died last July 30, 1944, we knew he had a defective pacemaker which he refused to have replaced. He had been doing as well as usual, having a daily wheelchair trip around this place, to watch the meadow birds and plant, and just betew nutty and quietly. He had endured six and a half years without speech or writing on the reading he used to do, since he had the stroke in '83.

I am still doing water colors of nature, subjects up close especially birds, and cell enough of them to make it interesting. I have been going on trips with the local Audubon group and the chatauqua basin environmental study people, and have got back into the Native Plant Society and also back into square dancing.

We have appreciated seeing your bulletin all this time, but now I feel you should drop my name, as it is very delightful if I will ever get back to western Pennsylvania much - and postage keeps going up and up.

I will remember all the great trips we took with you and wish you good luck with all your new projects.

I have moved to a different apartment in the same building, 2203 westchester bld D59

Port Charlotte, Fl. 33771

Mary W. Whyatt

POETIC LICENSE

This issue is for both July and August...for the usual reason. (Poor Jeanne!) Anne and I will be off to California via Wind Cave and Glacier National Parks. When we have completed this trip, we will have seen every national park in the lower 48 save two. The two remaining ones -- Voyageurs and Isle Royale.

The reason for this trip -- there are 3 California Poppies that I haven't taken a picture of.

* * *

NO MEETINGS IN JULY AND AUGUST

We have no monthly meetings during the summer -- July and August.
Our next meeting will be Monday, September 10.

* * *

ARE YOUR DUES PAID?

I'm the nice guy. I keep sending out bulletins even if dues aren't paid. After all, I don't have to worry about where the money is coming from.

Walt, he's the bad guy. He says if they haven't paid up.

So, if you haven't paid your 1995 dues, don't expect any more copies of Wildflowers.