CYPRIPEDIUM ACAULE

One of our members submitted this sketch of the Pink Lady's-Slipper to be printed in Wildflowers. It was something he or she made for an art project.

I say "he or she", because the artist signed the note "Anonymous". There were three additional sketches of orchids, and I will use them in future issues if Anonymous will own up to them. On second thought, I might use them any way; I'll just put my own name on them. I wish I could sketch like that.

OUR "GET WELL" LIST

We have two members champing at the bit, impatient at recuperating.

Eleanor Grove had a stroke. Her address is 463 Biddle Ave., Pittsburgh, PA 15221.

We mentioned before that Eva Emmerich had broken her hip in a ski accident. Her address is 1883 Beulah Road, Pittsburgh, PA 15235.

A HOST OF GOLDEN ERYTHRONIUM

we re-print this from last year's bulletin. We'll be back next month, and this time we'll have our Nikon with us.

*"When all at once I saw a crowd,
A host of golden daffodils"*

Even though they resembled something from "Dr. Zhivago", I knew they couldn't be daffodils. The whole hillside was covered with yellow flowers, thousands of them, but what were they? Dandelions? No! I was in the car. I turned around and parked in a "No Parking" zone.

I was flabbergasted when I checked them out and realized I was looking at several acres of yellow trout lilies.

Where was this amazing display? Was it two hundred miles away in some pristine wilderness? Would you believe it was within the city limits?

From Saw Mill Run Boulevard, take Woodruff Ave. toward Mt. Washington. To your left going up Woodruff Ave. is a very steep wooded hillside. That is where they are, all over the place.

The trout lilies were fully in bloom on April 22. I didn't have my camera with me, and I was leaving for Philadelphia the next morning, so I couldn't go back to get a photograph.

Deo volente, I'll be there next April...with my camera.

A SPECIAL NOTE TO THOSE WHO DIDN'T GET THIS BULLETIN

If you didn't get this issue of Wildflowers and you happen to see one that had been sent to another member, this is for you. We have culled our list of those who haven't paid their 1997 dues. If you want re-instated, just send your dues to me Robert F. Bahl, 401 Clearview Ave., Pittsburgh, PA 15205. It's $5 for a single membership, $8 for the whole family.

APRIL MEETING

Once again, our meeting will be held in the Kresge Theatre on the Carlow College Campus, 3333 Fifth Ave., Oakland. It will be Monday, April 14 at 8:00 P.M. sharp.

Our program is entitled A Nature Sampler. It is an audio-visual extravaganza, "naturally" by the "Kammer man", Paul E. Kammer.

This program has so much promise, we can't do it justice in a few lines. So, we have enclosed an extra sheet to describe it.
